THE CHARLEROI MAIL

VOL. XIX. NO. 110. CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1918. TWO CENTS

FIVE HUNDRED CLUB ORGANIZED TO BOOM LIBERTY LOAN BONDS

Chairman Patterson Hopes to Have 500 Members in Local Organization

EXPECTS A READY RESPONSE

Chairman Patterson of the Liberty Loan Committee, announces the formation of a "Fourth Liberty Loan $500 Club," the membership of which is fixed at 500, but which is confined to citizens of Charleroi, who have subscribed or will subscribe to not less than $500 to the Fourth Liberty Loan. More than one membership can be held by one individual, as for example if Mr. A. subscribed $2,000, he is entitled to six memberships the same rule applying if a greater amount is subscribed.

Membership certificates will be issued for each subscription, but subscribers who had made subscription prior to the 9th inst. will not be considered members unless the committee be notified to the effect that they wish to become members.

There will be a public Honor Roll for those who wish to join this club, and as members make application their names will appear in the Mail. At the close of the campaign a copy of the Honor Roll will be sent to the Charleroi boys now in France, as well as those in the cantonments, provided their names and addresses are furnished to Chairman Patterson or are left at Liberty Loan headquarters.

It has been figured that $500 will keep a soldier in France one year. Hence those enrolling in this organization become a member of the "S. O. S." club; or the money will buy two heavy Browning machine guns or two automatic rifles.

Mr. Patterson hopes to have a most generous response to this appeal and that a large number of bonds will be sold for the Fourth Liberty Loan by this means.

BOND CAMPAIGN MUST SPEED UP

As indicated by a full page advertisement in today's Mail, the bankers of Charleroi, as well as every other community in Washington county, are ready to extend the most generous terms to all who wish to borrow funds to buy Liberty Bonds. A meeting of the bankers of the county was held at Washington yesterday, at which time a resolution was unanimously adopted offering to loan money for that purpose for ninety days, at 4 1/4 per cent interest. Moreover, this accommodation will not in any way interfere with the other borrowings which these customers may desire to make.

The Liberty Loan will have to be speeded up in Washington county if the quota is to be reached by the next Saturday evening, and the bankers are urging the people who have means to "Dig Pouble." It was pointed out at the meeting in Washington yesterday that it is not the wage earner who is the slacker, rather the men who have means and whose bank account will stand the purchase of heavy blocks of Liberty Bonds. The campaign will be directed in that direction during the coming week.

FIGHTS RESULT FROM POKER GAMES

In a shooting scrape which took place at 227 Case avenue, Monessen, Friday night about 10:30 o'clock, Albert Brown, a colored man, was shot by a Charleroi colored resident who is known as "Rags." Brown was shot through the left shoulder, but his condition is not considered serious. "Rags" made his escape, but the police are looking for him.

Another fight took place in Monessen early this morning, about 4:30 o'clock, when Henry Hill, a colored man, was cut by another of his race, and known by the name of "Dad." Hill was badly carved in the face, the arm, the back and the right leg. The cutting occurred at a private house on 14th street.

Both of the altercations were the result of poker game disputes.

All Public Meetings Are Called Off

The following telegram was received Check against this and advise by Dr. A. O. Davis, secretary of the Charleroi Board of Health, from Dr. B. Franklin Royer, acting State Commissioner of Health and which was read at the Liberty Loan meeting last evening:

Harrisburg, Oct. 11—Dr. A. O. Davis—You are hereby directed to call off football game scheduled to take place soon, as I understand it will tend to encourage crowding of trolley cars and steam cars. This should be called off forthwith by your board. The Band concert planned will have to be recalled off also. Liberty Loan parade postponed. From the tone of the telephone call, when the Charleroi health board is your neighboring city has called, it is expected to keep a close tab on local off. It is reported that your hotel conditions and see that the orders of are not complying with order public health department are strictly enforcing sale of alcoholic stimulants.

The concluding Liberty Loan meeting held at the Fifth Street Stadium Friday evening was one of the best of the season, and directly resulted in the sale of $20,000 in Liberty Bonds. The attendance was even better than at the former meetings, while the enthusiasm was far beyond that which characterized the two previous gatherings. The speakers of the evening: John D. Berryman, Tom P. Sloan and Rev. E. N. Duty, presented particularly strong points with reference to the buying of Liberty Bonds and these appeals evidently had their effect, for when John D. Berryman arose at the conclusion of the speaking and read the letter of Chairman Patterson with reference to the "500" Club there was an instant response.

$20,000 Subscribed To Liberty Bonds

One man subscribed for $5,000 while other subscriptions ran the total amount up to $20,000, these subscribers being entitled certificates in the new "Five Hundred Club." The Pittsburg Steel Products band from Monessen was present, and gave a splendid concert before the meeting, as well as interspersing the speaking with instrumental selections. The male chorus under direction of Prof. Daniel was also a pleasing feature, and gave the greatest satisfaction by its vocal numbers. Owing to the health ban no further outdoor meetings will be held at the Stadium, unless it should be lifted during the coming week.

More Equitable Distribution of Product of Independent Companies

CORPORATIONS HAVE QUOTA

That the government fuel authorities keep a close inspection on the output of coal, not alone on the railroads, but likewise on the river, is shown by the fact that some of the industrial corporations with mining subsidiaries have been confined to their own operations to secure a supply of fuel. On the Monongahela river are a number of mines which load for the trade, that is, to companies having their own boats and barges. Some of these companies have been able during the past few months, by buying up all the outside coal possible to stock large quantities of fuel, thus fortifying them against any shortage which might occur during the coming winter. In making the recent survey the government officials found that at least one company had its quota of coal and directed that for the time at least it give up all independent coal which it had heretofore been able to buy, that the product might be turned over to other corporations who were not so well fortified, but whose needs were just as important.

This arrangement will not interfere with the production of coal on the Monongahela, for these independent mines will simply load their product for another company, and thus keep up the quota of bitum which is being mined from day to day.

In one of his recent bulletins of victory General Pershing mentioned the "soldiers of nine States," whereupon interested London bombarded the local newspapers with the question: "How many States are there altogether?" If Canada had been included in the lists by mistake a big part of the London reading public would have been none the wiser, which, by the way, is what gets the goat of the Canadians.

THE MODERN WAR-CHARIOT.

General Estienne, the designer of the new and highly effective French tank refuses to call it by its English name which, he pointedly remarks, "means tub, cistern, or I don't know what." He calls it a "char d'assaut," which, though rather long, is really and graphically descriptive, "char" meaning car or chariot, and "d'assaut" meaning assault, attack, shock, etc. The name given the French tank calls to mind the chariot of the ancients, in which kings themselves fought and warriors charged their enemies, wielding their long lances bayonet fashion. This, the only vehicle that employed by the ancients in war, was in such constant use in battle that in the Old Testament narrative, for example, the word chariot is often a symbol of war itself.

The new French tank suggests the war vehicle of the ancients in more than its name. The war-chariot only carried a driver and a fighter armed with a lance. In like manner the "char d'assaut," carries a crew of only two men, the driver and the gunner in his revolving tower operating his machine-gun. The French tank, which General Estienne has been developing for nearly three years, is comparatively light and swift, making ten or twelve miles an hour over the worst ground. The French tank corps has been so successful that it is now a regularly recognized fifth arm of the service, the corps being known as "the artillery of assault." General Pertain recently cited everybody concerned—designers, mechanics and fighting personnel—declaring: "The infantry unanimously is ready to share with the new arm the glory of which it has been so jealous. You are well worthy of the nation." Beyond question the modern war-chariot is a success.

OUR ANSWER.

Ludendorff said in defiance, "Our will to victory remains unbroken. We settled Russia. We will settle America."

The victory of St. Mihiel was the answer of the American army.

What is your answer?

Remember, as surely as our Army is fighting the gray horde of Germany's fighters, so we at home are pitted against the civilian population of Germany. They are making every effort to outdo us in saving their country's resources so that their armies will be able to hold out the longest. We must dedicate every hour of every day to the task of beating their efforts with our own.

Knowing this, every housewife will seize the opportunity of this golden autumn season in saving the apples and grapes. How the German women would like to have our orchards, laden with ruddy, juicy apples and our arbors covered with the long, drooping bunches of grapes! They would not let any go to waste.

Neither shall we!

Store the apples, dry them, can them, make them into jellies and butter. Save all the grapes you can lay your hands on by making them into the delicious jams, jellies, and marmalades that will make you forget next winter that butter is high and sugar is short.

The following recipes are two delightful ways of combining apples with grapes. The second recipe is from materials left over from the first grape and apple jelly.

Grape and Apple Jelly.

Extract the juice from the grapes and apples in the usual way, combine the fruit juices in equal parts and boil the mixture for 5 minutes to every quart of juice (first extraction) add 1-3 cups or 3-4 ounces sirup or honey and 2-3 cup or 3 ounces of sugar. Continue the boiling until the jelly test is reached. Pour the jelly into sterilized glasses and seal. This gives a jelly of a pleasing red color and a delicious flavor.

Grape and Apple Marmalade.

The pulp left from making grape and apple jelly may be rubbed through a sieve and combined in any proportion desired. For every pound (about 4) of pulp add 2-3 cup or 7-1-2 ounces of sirup and 1-4 cup or 2 ounces of sugar and 1-4 to 1-2 cup of water. If the pulp is already cooked and it may be necessary to add a little water. About 1-3 to 1-2 cup of pulp will be sufficient. If juice has not been extracted for jelly no water need be added for jelly fruit.

PREVENTING DISEASE.

The recent action of the local health board in directing that "stuffs" exposed for sale should be covered from dust and dirt, and requesting the borough council to have the streets sprinkled at frequent intervals is in line with the opinion of Dr. Francis C. Phillips, professor of chemistry at the University of Pittsburgh.

In speaking of the purchase of fruits and vegetables and other foodstuffs he said: "It is a singular feature that the public appears to be absolutely indifferent to such conditions, and while they carefully boil the drinking water, which has already been scientifically filtered at the great filtration plant of the city, they boldly and unhesitatingly eat food unsterilized which has been exposed to dangerous pollution."

Speaking of sprinkling the streets he said: "Street dust of a city is well known to carry such germs as are dangerous to breathe. The use of dry brooms for sweeping should be discontinued and the streets kept in such condition and free from dust to such an extent that danger of spreading the influenza by this means would be largely decreased."

LEARNING TO SAVE.

There seems to be no good reason why, when the war ends, we should not keep right on saving, says a prominent exchange. Why should we resume our old habits of throwing away food and a hundred other things? Our contract with our European allies ought to teach us something. Why not make thrift a habit instead of an emergency measure? The war has done what nothing else in the world could do—it has given us a good start in the right direction. We have become used to "hooverizing" not only in food but in many commodities that play a part in every day life. From an economic standpoint the habit of saving will be extremely valuable when peace comes, as the altered conditions may reduce the incomes of many families. In fact there is not a single valid argument in favor of wasting.

DRASTIC ORDERS TO SAVE FOOD

Every Hotel and Eating Place in State Affected by New Food Rules.

SERVING ALL FOODSTUFFS

Severe Penalties Will Be Imposed On Those Dealers Who Violate These Orders—They Must Obey or Go Out of Business.

OBEY OR GO OUT OF BUSINESS

"Where the patriotic co-operation of public eating places cannot be secured by other means, the Food Administration will not hesitate to secure compliance with its orders through its control of the distribution of sugar, flour and other food supplies."

The most drastic and far-reaching orders regarding the conservation of food in hotels, restaurants, clubs and other eating places that have yet been issued by the Federal Food Administration were given out at the office of Howard H. Hill, Federal Food Administrator for Pennsylvania, yesterday. These orders must be obeyed by every public eating place in the State of Pennsylvania and are put into effect with the hope of helping to save the 17,530,000 tons of food which America must ship abroad before July 1st, 1919. This is a decrease of 3,750,000 tons over last year's.

This year the Food Administration does not ask the people to save a particular food but to save on all food. It is above all to eliminate every bit of waste possible. These are no requests, but orders, and the Food Administrators of various States will enforce them strictly by cutting off the food supply of hotels and restaurants; keepers who are not sufficiently patriotic to accept them voluntarily. The orders go into effect on Monday, October 21st.

Administration Means Business.

The following are the general orders:

- (1) All wheat bread served must contain at least 20 per cent of wheat substitutes.
- (2) Two ounces of every bread shall be served to one person at one meal, sandwiches or bread served at boarding camps and the bread containing 50 per cent or more rye flour excepted.
- (3) Toast or bread shall not be served as a garniture or under meat.
- (4) No bread shall be served until after the first course.
- (5) Only one kind of meat shall be served to one person at one meal. By-products of meat and poultry are included in this.
- (6) Bacon shall not be served as a garniture.
- (7) Not more than 1/2 ounce of butter shall be served to one person at one meal.
- (8) Not more than 1/2 ounce of American cheese shall be served to one person at one meal.
- (9) Sugar bowls on table are forbidden. Sugar must be asked for by the patron before being served, and not more than one teaspoonful per meal shall be served to one person.
- (10) Two pounds of sugar must last for 30 meals, including table and kitchen uses, except in hotels holding a bakery license. No sugar secured for baking shall be used for any other purpose.
- (11) No food shall be burned under any circumstances and all waste shall be saved for animal food or reduction.
- (12) Food shall not be displayed in such a way as to cause deterioration so it cannot be used for human consumption.
- (13) Double cream or cream de luxe shall not be served, nor any cream containing over 20 per cent of butter fat.

In connection with these orders Herbert Hoover, Federal Food Administrator, says that they are necessitated by the military program, and in winning the war the part played by the Food Administration is very large and important. It means further self-control both by the Allies and by ourselves in order that an armistice be secured.

Save Half Pound Per Week.

The average consumption in America of bread stuffs amounts to six pounds per week and of meats and fats to four pounds per week per person. A reduction in consumption of less than one half pound per week per person in each of these food groups will accomplish what the Food Administration desires. Mr. Hoover, however, emphasizes that there is not to be any curtailment in the use of food for children.

Nearly 9,000,000 people eat at the public eating places and the food consumption is larger than in the average home.

buy less, serve less, return nothing to the kitchen and practice the gospel of the clean plate."

In laying down these points the Food Administration emphasizes the fact that the idea is to reduce consumption and waste and save food for the front, not a particular food, but all food.

In addition to the general orders some suggestions are made by the Food Administration, which with the co-operation of the managers of hotels and restaurants will aid in saving great quantities of food.

Among these suggestions are that rolls should not weigh more than one ounce each. It is also important that all cereals should be served sprinkled as they are greatly needed abroad and are easy to store and transport.

Prices To Be Adjusted Also.

Another important feature of the orders is that if patrons desire, only one chop should be served and all portions of meat should be large enough only to meet the requirement of patrons. Prices, however, should be adjusted accordingly. It is also urged that as few fried dishes as possible be served in order to conserve all fats. No candles should be served after meals and things made from sugar should be eliminated and honey maple sugar, corn sugar and syrup used as sweeteners. Fresh vegetable and fruits should be used wherever possible and canned fruits and vegetables should be used as little as possible in order to save tin and labor.

Hotels and restaurants are also urged to use every possible means to economize in the use of coffee in order to release coffee ships to transport troops and supplies abroad and the use of American cheese with salt and in the form of macaroni and this variety should be avoided. The economy is urged in the use of eggs as ammonia is needed in the manufacture of munitions.

The Food Administration believes the fourth meal of the day to be unnecessary and unhygienic, but when appetizers are served all meats should be eliminated and sea foods and eggs and by-products of meat should be substituted. Elaborate luncheons and suppers are also considered unhygienic and should not be served. They are recommended by the Food Administration as necessary for social entertainment, but such gatherings should be simple and the hostess should remember that the "repat" can take the place of one of the regular meals.

Saving Labor in Service.

All public eating places are urged to reduce the use of china, linen and silver in order to effect a saving of labor. Wherever possible, food should be served in the dish from which it is to be eaten and service plates should be eliminated. All general bills of fare are to be abandoned as the great variety of dishes listed on them necessitates carrying large quantities of food and spoilage and waste always follow. A simple bill of fare for each meal with a limited number of dishes and changed from day to day to give variety is to be arranged and a standard form of menu card about 6x10 inches is recommended. This is to be printed on paper or card board as of light a quality as possible. The simplified menu card alone will save thousands of tons of paper each year. It is also urged that all menu cards be printed in English only. The Administration encourages the use of vegetables, fruits and other by-products, such as feature liver, kidney, etc.

The table d'hôte as served in America also comes under the ban on account of the inevitable waste and it is discouraged. Where it is necessary to serve it, it should be limited to a few courses of small variety. All eating places are urged to use local and seasonal foods.

The fundamental principle of the regulation of public eating places depends upon the saving of waste and the use of left-overs to the best advantage. It is better that the people wait a few moments for their food than that an unnecessary amount be cooked in anticipation of a larger number of guests than will be served.

GAS MASKS

How the Children May Save Some Sammie's Life.

Every American has the chance to direct war service that will save the lives of soldiers. Carbon is needed to make millions of gas masks for the American army. Coalminers have furnished much of this material, but coalminers mean ships, and during the present shortage material for carbon must be found nearer home. The pits of apples, peaches, plums, cherries, grapes, and plums and the shells of Brazil nuts, hickory nuts, walnuts and butternuts make carbon for masks that will outlast the most diabolical of the German gases.

Here is work for all, every home, church and school. Urge the boys and girls to start the woods for nuts and other war patriotic organizations to start in making collections. See that the work is started in your neighborhood. Place collection boxes in schools, churches, banks and stores, and above all in your own home. So four boys and girls can see the pile grow. It takes two hundred bushels of nuts or seven pounds of nut pits to furnish carbon for a gas mask and save the life of an American soldier. How many masks can your neighborhood furnish?

Dry the pits and shells before turning them into the nearest Red Cross chapter. This organization is in charge of collecting all material.

UNUSUAL HONOR TO PROF. DANIEL

Prof. I. T. Daniel, supervisor of music in the public schools, has been engaged to act as adjudicator in an esteddfod to be held at New Castle, Pa., next Christmas Day. One week later, Prof. Daniel will journey to Utica, N. Y., to serve in a similar capacity at the esteddfod to be held in that city next New Year's Eve and New Year's Day. This will be Prof. Daniel's third consecutive engagement at Utica, an honor unprecedented in the history of the esteddfod in this country. On account of the war, an esteddfod which was to be held at Albion, Iowa, on Thanksgiving Day, and at which Prof. Daniel was to serve has been postponed until next year.

BUY BONDS AND RING THE BELL

Listen to the tapping.
The gentle tapping.
Of the Liberty Bell;
For it sounds to call
A clarion call,
A story it would tell.

Maybe you heard it today. If not, listen as you pass the corner of Fallowfield avenue and Fifth street. It may sound a single peal as you reach that point and if it does, you may know that another $50 Liberty Bond has been reported sold in the Charleroi area. This tapping may become continuous during the coming week, and if it does, our people will know that the sale of Liberty Bonds is going along in fine shape.

The bell, the old-style farm dinner bell, was placed in position in front of the Bank of Charleroi on Friday by direction of Chairman Daly, and its purpose is to herald the progress of the sale of Liberty Bonds. It is a local Liberty Bell, and our people are asked to keep it continually ringing by purchasing Liberty Bonds. It is the purpose to keep track of every purchase of bonds in the Charleroi area and as our sales have not been up to expectation, we will have to keep the bell going at a rapid rate from now on to reach our quota. Help to ring the bell.

The continued burning of towns and cities by the Huns as they retreat has resulted in the civilian demand of "town for town and city for city" as soon as the Allies enter German territory. Infuriated and long waiting soldiers need no such urging. They may take vengeance to such an extent indeed that there may be some basis for the inevitable German outcry against "Allied atrocities."

Sound Carried Far.

A camp cook whose only means of calling the members of his party was pounding on a pan with a knife handle was unable to make them hear when they were fishing or hunting at any considerable distance from the camp. One of the party to whom he complained thereupon made what he called a "Kieplalo".

The "Kieplalo" was merely a piece of well-seasoned oak plank two inches thick, six inches wide, and four feet long. Through the center he bored a hole, passed a rope through it and suspended the plank from the branch of a tree. The cook "rang" the instrument by striking it with a mallet, first on one side and then on the other.

The man who made the "Kieplalo" had seen similar contrivances in small Bulgarian villages, where they are used instead of church bells to call the people to worship. A test of the instrument used by the campers showed that in ordinary weather conditions it could be heard two miles--Manchester Union.

Plantations.

The word plantation is used principally in the Southern states, where it originated in old slavery times to designate a farm cultivated by negroes, as a cotton plantation or a sugar plantation. In Illinois it has a distinctive meaning, representing a form of government smaller than a township. In that state most of the functions of local government are performed by the town or township. In addition to 11 cities and 400 villages, Illinois has 77 townships and 1,000 villages.

The word plantation is also used to designate a small, permanent division of land, as a small plantation of corn or wheat.

A plantation is a triangular piece of land smaller than a township.

White Buzzards.

A page from Captain Dampier's "First Voyage to the Bay of Camperdown" published in 1729, tells of white buzzards. A native of any of the southern states will vouch for the fact that a white buzzard in those parts would be regarded as something of an absurdity, but says the voracious old sea captain: "Some of the carrion crows are all over white but their feathers look as if they were sullied. 'Tis seldom that we see a great number of black ones but that we see one white one among them."

Know What You Want.

"The hardest customers I have," a salesman in a city store declared recently, "are the people who are waiting for someone to tell them what they want." This class of people is increasing but we might expect, and not only do they make trouble for others but they are restless and discontented. Do not wait for someone to tell you what you want. Find out for yourself. The first step toward getting what you want is to know what it is.

Plantfood in Soil.

A chemical analysis cannot show the amount of available plantfood in a soil. A chemist could, without difficulty, make an artificial soil containing every element of plantfood in abundance, and yet be perfectly sterile. Peat, for example, is usually very rich in nitrogen, but it is locked up or unavailable. To pulverize it and mix it with lime is to change it into a highly nutritious soil.

Real Riches.

Some people never know, but others do. Real riches consist not in having, but in giving. Some of the people who are called as wealthy are in reality poor starved souls to whom the joy of sacrifice is an unknown luxury. Not until you master the art of giving up for others are you really rich--Exchange.

Recognized the Symptoms.

Little May had been sick and had her temperature taken with the thermometer several times. Shortly after, when out walking with her mother, she saw a man taking his time with a little pressure gauge. Turning to her mother, she asked him: "Oh, look, mother, that man's taking his temperature."

COMMISSION FOR E. D. STEINMAN, JR.

According to a cablegram received last week, E. D. Steinman, Jr., whose father is Burgess of Fayette City and editor of the Journal of that place, has been commissioned a second lieutenant of the United States Army in France. Lieut. Steinman was a member of Company A, 110th Infantry of Monongahela, and went to Camp Hancock, September, 1917, as First Sergeant of that unit. In this capacity he served all through the training period at Camp Hancock, as well as in France, where the regiment arrived early in May. With his Company he was in the front line at the Marne for thirty days in the big drive that started the Huns on the way back to Germany, and went through without a scratch. When his Company was temporarily relieved from the front line Steinman was selected for admission to an officers' training school in France, and passed all the tests in a most satisfactory manner. His many friends in this section of the valley will be pleased to learn of his success.

BIG RETAINING WALL ON YOUGH.

The E. M. Wichert Company has received an additional contract from the McKeesport Tinsplate company for an extension to its retaining wall on the Youghiogheny river of 530 feet. This new addition is an extension to the 2,300 feet already in place or under construction. After this extension is completed the total lineal feet of retaining wall in front of this plant will be about 2,800 feet making it the longest retaining wall on any of the rivers in western Pennsylvania, built by the same company. The contract price is about $750,000. The new addition is to be 39 feet high, 2 1/2 feet at the base tapering to two feet at the top and rests on hardwood piles of which 950 are used, each about 25 feet long.

MONESSEN MAN BADLY GASSED

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Moore from their son Sergeant L. E. Moore, who is a member of Company F, 111th Regiment. Sergeant Moore was badly gassed on the 15th of July and has been in a base hospital the greater part of the time since that date. Recently he was transferred to a convalescent hospital. His condition was such that it was impossible for him to write his parents for many weeks, but now that he is on the road to recovery he is able to let his kinsfolk know how he is progressing.

GOOD RECORD AT MACBETH-EVANS CO.

The Charleroi plant of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company further increased its subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan by boosting the total amount to $104,809, or an average for every man, woman, boy and girl in the employ of the plant of over $100 certainly a record of which the company's employees have reason to be proud.

BODY OF SOLDIER ARRIVES IN CHARLEROI

The body of Stephen Kopynick, who died at Ft. Totten, New York, Thursday, October 17, reached Charleroi, Sunday evening on the 5:43 train. They were met at the Pennsylvania station by the borough officers, members of council and the Home Defense Police, who escorted them to the home of his mother, 1003 Lincoln avenue. Private funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Harbala of St. Cyril and Methodius Catholic church. The deceased was a member of the Slovak Band of Charleroi. His brother is now living quite ill at the family home near Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seals and daughter spent Sunday with Mrs. Seals' parents Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lamb.

MONESSEN HAS NO "FLU" EPIDEMIC

Rumors concerning an epidemic of the Spanish influenza in Monessen are evidently incorrect, as up until noon today there were but few cases which could be classed as coming under the head of this new malady. There is considerable sickness in that town from various ailments, but so far there is no scare over the influenza. Precautionary measures are being taken and the lower floor of the Elks home, which has been turned over by that organization, will be utilized as an emergency hospital, if it becomes necessary.

Phillip Burbannack.

Phillip Burbannack, an employee of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, died Saturday at 12:10 a. m. from pneumonia and influenza, aged 45 years. Funeral services, which were private, were held Sunday afternoon by the pastor of the Russian Orthodox church.

Rebuff Discourteous.

Augustin Day, who was regarded by the general public as one of the most frog-blooded of men, was standing in the lobby of his theater one evening when he was approached by an actor, who presented his card and inquired: "Do you recognize the profession?" "Did you ever see me stop and speak to one of them?" was the freezing reply.

Stopped Too Soon.

The fat, good-natured, cross-eyed barber was in the middle of my haircut when our conversation drifted into goatees. "I'd rather take a whipping," he said, "than shave a man with a goatee. Just when you begin to get down where the shavin's good, you have to stop."--Chicago Tribune.

Crowd Them Out.

If we wish to overcome evil at all, we must overcome it with good; there is no other way. Even in our own hearts, the easiest way to cast out wrong and unkind thoughts is by so crowding them out with generous purposes and pleasant memories that there is no room for them.

Use for Kansas Sunflower.

Americans, especially those who live in the Sunflower state of Kansas, will be interested in knowing that the cultivation of the sunflower is being urged in England because its seeds are rich in oil and valuable as chicken feed.--The People's Home Journal.

Record for Divers.

In salvaging the United States submarine F-4, which was sunk off Honolulu in March, 1915, divers went down to a depth of about 300 feet and adjusted chains and cables and directed operations of men at the surface. This is said to have broken all diving records.

Railway for Gunpowder Only.

In one of the western states there is a little railway, the one purpose of which is to transport gunpowder from the magazines to the packing house. The two little cars, drawn by a real curiosity of an engine, are scarcely larger than delivery wagons.

First Glass Eyes.

Oddly enough, the first artificial eyes were not made for living persons, but for the dead. In the days of the earliest Pharaohs the Egyptian embalmers removed the eyes, poured plaster or wax into the sockets and set in eyes of volcanic glass or some precious stone.

Mend the Leaky Pen.

If one is troubled with a leaky fountain pen, the application of a little soap to the threads of the screw will work magic. If the pen is supplied, thoroughly cleaned, filled, and the soap applied, I am sure there will be no more trouble until the pen needs refilling.

Have No Silly Belief in Luck.

All successful men have agreed on one thing--they were cautious. They believed that things were to be made, but by hard work, not by luck. Luck is a word that means nothing--that nothing is going to happen--characterizes all vulgar minds.--Emerson.
